

WOODWARD IS CAPTURED WEAR HUNTING ON W. VA.

Federal Prisoner, Who Escaped From County Jail, Taken From Train by Railway Detective.

BRING HIM BACK AT ONCE

Denies Identity, but Local Authorities Say Description Tallies Perfectly, and Are Certain He Is Man Wanted—May Fight Extradition.

Frank H. Woodward, the Federal prisoner who saved his way to freedom from the Henrico County Jail yesterday afternoon by special Agent G. A. Lenz, of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, at Harborsville, W. Va. When arrested Woodward was standing on the platform of a west-bound passenger train, which was just ready to leave the station. He was immediately carried to the Cabell County Jail, at Huntington, and the authorities here were notified of the arrest.

Woodward denied all knowledge of the charges preferred against him when arrested, and claimed that his name was Samuel Woodward. Federal authorities here were in communication with the officers at Huntington last night, and stated that the description given of the man by the Virginia officers described Woodward perfectly. A special guard was placed about the jail at Huntington last night, and it is likely that Woodward will be brought back to Richmond some time today. A reward of $100 for his capture and return was offered by Sheriff L. H. Kemp, of Henrico, on the day he escaped.

TO-DAY OR TO-MORROW

Utham M. Smith, Assistant United States District Attorney, stated that, in case it became necessary to issue extradition papers for Woodward's return to this city, some little delay may be encountered, but it is believed that the prisoner will be brought back either to-day or to-morrow. A message from Huntington was to the effect that Detective Johnson would bring Woodward back to Richmond to-day, but United States Marshal John G. Saunders was expecting instructions to go to West Virginia to aid in bringing the fugitive back Woodward, who was being held for trial on a charge of impersonating a government officer, is regarded as a rather desperate character. Before making his escape from the county jail, he attempted to saw the bars of his cell in the First Police Station, but was caught in the act by an officer.

Woodward made no resistance when arrested. Two other men, who were with the fugitive when he was spotted by the officer, but they were allowed to go free. As Woodward's right arm is of just above the elbow, his identification seems almost certain. It was indicated here that he would attempt to conceal this physical defect by using an artificial hand, but this was not done. Having passed the State line in safety the fugitive, no doubt expected little trouble in making a complete getaway, but the authorities all over the country had been advised to be on the lookout for him. It was over the entire system of the Chesapeake and Ohio were advised from the offices of General Chalmers, Agent L. L. Scherer, to keep a sharp lookout for Woodward and in this way his arrest was made possible. Mr. Scherer's office received the first information in Richmond of Woodward's arrest.

MAKES NO COMMENT

UPON BROTHER'S CAPTURE
Mrs. Carrie Woodward, the fugitive's mother, and Willard, his brother, who have been arrested by United States authorities charged with aiding in the escape, still protest that they furnished no assistance and that they had no way of knowing what his intention was to break jail. Mrs. Woodward is out on bail, while Willard is being held in the Henrico Jail. The trial of the two is set for September 4, before United States District Judge John E. Egan. When informed last night of Woodward's arrest Willard Woodward refused to make any comment about the case.

Several of the officers investigating the case are of the opinion that the three Woodward are of no relation whatever.

AMBASSADOR REFUTES CHARGES OF CRUELTY

Von Bernstorff Declines Campaign of Enemies Against German Army in Absolutely Shameful.
NEW YORK, August 29.—Count von Bernstorff, German ambassador to the United States, issued this statement here to-day:

"The campaign of our enemies regarding the German army with cruelty against the prisoners of war, and the attacks in this respect, nobody can regret more than I do if women and children have been killed during the fighting. The German army is above all else, if the civilian population of a country joins in the fighting as is the case in Belgium, where German soldiers have been killed in the back, where German wounded have been mutilated and doctors and nurses shot."

"It is absolutely unjustifiable to suppose that Zeppelin bombs were thrown against any of the cities of Belgium. Women and children should not remain in besieged fortresses."

"It is inconceivable that any of the powers who have joined the coalition should have the intention of attacking us should desire to give us lessons on methods of European warfare, after having called Oriental troops into the struggle, and after having sent German and Indian troops to France to fight their battles for them."

Count von Bernstorff said he had received no communication from the government of the North Sea by the British, but assumed newspaper accounts were true.

UNITED STATES IS MODEL

London Paper in Editorial Denounces Secret Diplomacy.
LONDON, August 29 (410 A. M.).—The Daily News in an editorial denouncing secret diplomacy, says: "Can Europe ever again tolerate the appalling peril of secret diplomacy? Can we ever again play about on the deck with sails and compasses, making our little laws and imagining that we are self-governing, while in the hold of our ship of state there is a hidden magazine, the very existence of which we are not permitted to know?"

"Secret diplomacy belongs to the tradition of autocratic and personal government. It has no place in a democratic world, and the example of the United States is the only one of the civilized world on this vital matter if Europe is to be free from menace in the future."

ACCUSE RAILWAY AGENT OF BYRD LAW VIOLATION

Supreme Court Allows Writ of Error in Case From Accomac County.

F. C. TAYLOR TWICE CONVICTED

It Is Alleged That He Delivered Liquor to Person Other Than Bonded Consignee, and Without a Written Order.

The Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia has granted a writ of error and supersedeas in the case of F. C. Taylor vs. the Commonwealth of Virginia. The case comes from the Circuit Court of Accomac County. Taylor was indicted for unlawfully delivering ardent spirits to a person other than the bonded consignee, and without the written order of said consignee. He was tried and convicted on two separate indictments. The penalty imposed was $50 fine and thirty days in jail.

Taylor is the agent for the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic Railway Company, whose steamers ply between Baltimore and points in Accomac and Northampton Counties, this State.

It was disclosed in the evidence, according to the recital of the petition, a man named Hart had been clandestinely ordering liquors from Baltimore and selling the wet goods secretly at Kellar, Accomac County. In order to get the liquor through, Hart, who has since disappeared, would order the goods from a liquor house in Baltimore, have them consigned to one person or another, and sometimes to a fictitious person. He would then send an order to Taylor, his agent at the railroad company, signed with the name of the real or mythical consignee.

HAD NO IDEA OF ANY IRREGULARITIES

Taylor says he had no suspicion that the orders were not genuine, because they were always brought by regular wagoners who did hauling from Hoggs Wharf.

He was indicted on October 20, 1913, under the Byrd law. He appealed, and a writ of error in that case was awarded by the Supreme Court. The Commonwealth's attorney of Accomac then prosecuted Taylor on another indictment, and the trial resulted in a second conviction. From this second verdict he is now appealing. He submits that "this was a case involving interstate commerce, and is, therefore, beyond the power of State regulation through the Byrd law."

TO-MORROW'S MOVING DAY

Which Way Are You Going?

TWO MEN ARE ARRESTED FOR FIGHTING IN STREET

Leo J. Carrier and C. W. Satterwhite Will Be Given Hearing in Police Court To-morrow.

POLICEMAN IS COMPLAINT

Patrolman Whitlock Alleges That W. W. Barton Trespassed Upon Premises—Young Man Alleged to Have Thrown Rock Through Window.

A fight in which the combatants are said to have fought over the side of a building and the premises of several persons yesterday led to the arrest of Leo J. Carrier and C. W. Satterwhite on a charge of being disorderly and fighting in the street. W. H. Carrier, who is sojourning in London, is a trained newspaperman, and his observations are therefore of particular interest.

Speaking of the day preceding the declaration of war, Mr. Meek said: "Great crowds of people filled the streets, but in quiet English way, went on their picnic parties to the parks and country, and on their return found the armies moving and the fleet disappearing into the mists of the North Sea. The tramp of silent arms, few of the regiments having drum corps playing, is heard on every side. He it said to the evening glory of England that her people have walked to the death line with a fortitude that is amazing beyond conception."

ACTION OF THE ARMY

"The celerity of the action of the army, and its mystery, is uncanny. London has not heard a word as to whether the army is in Belgium or not, nor has it heard anything definite about the navy. The banks were all closed for five days, and the exchange too, but the Bank of England and the Treasury absolutely mastered the situation, together with the wonderful self-reliance of the people. There has been no rise in the price of food, because the government said there must be none."

ASKED TO LOCATE GIRL

Sixteen-Year-Old Gladys Lane Reported Missing From Home.
Captain M. Nettleton was last night asked to aid in locating Gladys Lane, aged sixteen, of 2103 G Street, who was missing since August 25. The report was made by the father, who told Captain McMahon that the girl, who lives with her grandmother, had been seen by her grandmother, while he resided at 2103 Pleasant Street. He said that his daughter had gone to visit a married sister in Norfolk, but had returned to Richmond from that city after a brief stay. She was last seen one night standing on the corner of Seventh and Main Streets.

Thelma Craig and Irene Mallory, the girls who disappeared from their homes, 305 West Cary Street, several days ago were yesterday located in a silk factory in Petersburg by the police. They will be returned to their parents in this city.

BRANDIS—TODD

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Phillips announce the marriage of their sister, Miss Marie Todd, to E. L. Brandis, Miss Todd is the daughter of the late Walter J. and Isadora Todd. EXHIBITS BANK ROLL AND STARTLES CAPITAL

Reporter Picks Up Bunch of Real Money in Main Corridor of Basement.

INVESTIGATION IS SUGGESTED

Sam Bigger Wants to Hold Flank for Safekeeping, but Dick Blankenship Is Selected as Custodian of Fund.

Exhibiting a roll of greenbacks amounting to $50, a newspaper reporter started a semipublic in the Capital Building yesterday, shortly after the noon hour. The reporter said he had picked up the money in the basement corridor, half-way between the entrance on the west side of the building and the elevator.

"Billy" Martin, who has been acting as private secretary to Governor Stuart for the last two weeks, heard of the find and hurried downstairs to inspect it. He said he had never before heard of a find of so much money in the world. Richard T. Wilson, clerk of the Corporation Commission, came down to see the money, and the three expressed the opinion that the money was counterfeit. Colonel Joe Button, State Commissioner of Insurance, suggested an investigation was in order, and the newspaper reporter called upon to explain his accumulation of real money.

James H. Hayes, chief clerk to Secretary of the Commonwealth, Ben O. James, moved that the money be forwarded forthwith to the Home for Incubated. Then Sam Bigger, of the Corporation Commission, ambled up with the suggestion that the ten-dollar bills be placed in his custody for safekeeping, which suggestion met with general objection.

Finally, "Dick" Blankenship, the elevator runner, was selected by the group as custodian of the fund. The money is now in his hands.

WILL RETAIN SEAT

Wendenburg Says His Term in Senate Not Affected by Annexation.

Senator Louis O. Wendenburg has refused to leave his seat in the Senate, his intention to remain in the State Senate until the expiration of his term. The question of my residence in Barton Heights and my membership in the State Senate, he said, was sufficiently discussed when the annexation case was heard before Judge Campbell in Henrico County. Judge Campbell decided at that time that the annexation of Barton Heights by the city of Richmond would not affect me in the least. Therefore, my term in the State Senate will be completed just as the district in which I reside had not been annexed to the city.

That means, of course, that I will not again be a candidate for the Senate from Henrico County. I shall continue my residence in Barton Heights and will become a citizen of Richmond again.

FINED $25 FOR ASSAULT

William Anderson, colored, was yesterday fined $25 and costs by Police Court for assaulting Louise Walker, a white girl.
